

Busy social cycle

Weekend People 17/2/89

THE 78 members and friends who attended the annual dinner and dance of the Fellowship of 1066 Longmakers at the Yelton Hotel recently, were welcomed by the president, Arthur Coleman.

The Fellowship, formed in 1984, exists to promote the social side of cycling in Hastings and a number of the guests present had been spending the last weekend of January in the town since the Fellowship began.

Among the organisations represented were the Eastbourne Rovers C.C.; Catford C.C.; Potterers C.C.; Southborough Wheelers and the Kent Group of the Veterans Time Trials Association.

Geoff Jones, president of the Fellowship of Kent and Sussex Cyclists, replied to the toast to the visitors, and paid tribute to the officers and founder members of the "1066 Fellowship" and particularly mentioned the barbecues hosted by Sid and Barbara Powell during the summer. Joyce Coleman and Dave and Audrey Morris were also singled out for praise for the work they did. After the meal, which was interrupted by lively cross toasting, the evening was completed with dancing to Tina and her Summer Sounds.

Any mature cyclists who wish to chat about the old acrys of the sport, should visit the Royal Albion Hotel, Hastings, where the 1066 Fellowship and the Catford C.C. Old Kittens meet for lunch, on the last Wednesday of the month.
